Experience of working with communities

We have a wide range of experience working with communities, from the development of community centres, schools, public orientated workshops and housing schemes. We have been heavily involved with the Open Youth Trust in Norwich, engaged from the early stages exploring environments which enable the community to better themselves in nurturing environments. Our design work is centred around evolving communities, whether we are providing a school to inspire both the students and the community outside of school hours or working with charities such as the 'women's refuge' in Leeds. Our background has provided diverse and innovative ways to engage with people. After all we are creative problem solvers and our talents are not necessarily limited to design. Our ability to understand complex social issues underline our design-work and the way we engage with people to make a positive difference, adding real value to the happiness and success of an area.

Involvement in community led or self-build developments (especially housing projects)

Our background has provided diverse and innovative ways to engage with people. After all we are creative problem solvers and our talents are not necessarily limited to design. Our ability to understand complex social issues underline our design-work and the way we engage with people to make a positive difference, adding real value to the happiness and success of an area. We understand residential design and have a great deal of experience in this sector, both community led and private clients looking for 'self-build' solutions. We look to engage from the start, understanding their needs and help them to formulate the brief and connect the dots. We are working with housing groups within the Humber region to develop intelligent and affordable housing schemes, which can adapt to the occupants, creating fully responsive living environments with the vision to create 'Happy Homes' in Hull! We are also exploring how responsive environments can be used within senior living developments whereby the environment can ease an occupant's living conditions providing them with an advanced level of independence and creating a safe environment in which to live, having a direct effect on their happiness and the success of the scheme overall. We would love the opportunity to share some ideas and discuss this potential further.
