Experience of working with communities

GHM, established in 1969, specialise in the provision of architectural services on UK housing projects. We have extensive experience working with housing associations, local authorities and housing trusts to either regenerate existing housing estates or develop new communities. At the early design stages we work closely with each client group to understand their specific requirements and housing needs. Once design proposals are developed we often hold public exhibitions and workshops to gather input from the local community prior to any formal planning submission. Our focus is creating safe, well designed quality homes to meet each clients needs within a defined budget. GHM also have specilaist skills in the design of new homes for future adaptation (LifeTime Homes) and a range of mobility standards (Habinteg Wheelchair Guides).

Involvement in community led or self-build developments (especially housing projects)

GHM have a diverse track record covering all aspects of residential design from small sites (minimum five new homes) through to large scale regeneration and master planning (500 hundred plus homes). Our projects vary from tight urban infill sites, suburban family housing through to rural settings. The majority of our projects in recent years have been the provision of new build dwellings although our long term experience is more varied and covers numerous works to historic buildings and change of use or extensions to existing properties and estate regeneration. GHM are a small company offering a personal and professional service. Each project is lead by a project architect with skills relevant to each client. Examples of some of our projects can be found on our website at www.ghmpartnership.co.uk
